

10 Year

Manufacturers Material Warranty

Marbelite International Corporation

warrants its polymer modified cement coating material to the installing contractor or applicator (only) against delamination from the sound properly prepared concrete substrate to which it has been applied for a period of ten years, subject to the warranty conditions.

Warranty is subject to the following conditions:

Marbelite polymer cement is installed for its intended use as a decorative surface covering for any exterior or interior, commercial or residential concrete driveway, patio, pool deck, walkway or floor area.

Marbelite polymer cement must be applied undersuitable atmospheric conditions and in accordance with Marbelite International Corporation published (free upon request) installation procedures.

Any Marbelite delamination directly related and attributed to the underlying concrete substrate is not covered by the warranty. Examples: cracking, settling, expansion or contraction movement, deterioration, efflorescence (calcium salts), latency, and moisture penetration caused by hydrostatic pressure through the concrete or cracks.

Any Marbelite delamination resultant from any chemical or mechanical means, including washout from rain or sprinkler systems during installation, or over smooth glossy profile surfaces is not covered by this warranty.

The concrete substrate to which the Marbelite material is being applied must be dry, clean, sound, grease and wax free and uncontaminated by any substance that could prevent bonding. Additionally, the concrete substrate must meet the surface standards of ATSM for 3,000 PSIDOT concrete, (specifically), compressive, flexural, tensile strength and abrasion and impact resistance.

In the event delamination occurs, the contractor or applicator must provide a detailed job report and provide a chip sample of the material in question for verification and testing.

Marbelite International Corporation agrees to replace any materials purchased, free of charge, not to include freight or labor, for the specific area where delamination occurred and when materials are the proven cause of the problem. Marbelite International's liability, in connection to the sale of its products, is limited to the purchase price of its products to the original installing applicator or contractor only, and not to the end consumer. No other warrant is expressed or implied.

Marbelite International Corporation
5844 Interstate Court
Sarasota, FL 34240